[SEPTEMBER, MDCCLXXII.] [NUMB. 356.]

THE SOUTH-CAROLINA AND COUNTRY GAZETTE; JOURNAL.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, both Foreign and Domeſtic.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1772.

Charles-Town, Auguſt 24, 1772.

THE Subſcribers give NOTICE, to ſuch of the Creditors of THOMAS WALTER, late of Charles-Town, Merchant, who have complied with the Condition of his Aſſignment, by releaſing him from their ſeveral Demands, within the Time therein preſcribed; that they purpoſe dividing all and ſingular the Monies, ariſing from the Surrender of his Eſtate, and remaining in their Hands, among the ſaid Creditors, agreeable to the Tenor of the ſaid Aſſignment, on Wedneſday the 23d of September next; and they are hereby deſired to call that Day, on ROBERT WILLIAMS, jun. and receive their reſpective Shares and Proportions thereof, accordingly.——And the Subſcribers further give Notice, that they are, in the mean Time, ready to render an Account of the Execution of the Truſt repoſed in them, to the ſaid Creditors, or any three, or more of them, whom they may appoint, in Behalf of the whole, to examine the ſaid Truſt-Account, with the relative Vouchers.

PETER MANIGAULT,
ROBERT WILLIAMS, jun. } Aſſignees.

Charles-Town, July 14, 1772.

THE Subſcriber is much obliged to his planting Friends, who, by landing their Crops at his Wharf for three Years paſt, have thereby introduced it to Buſineſs.——He acted as Factor during that Time, purely to prevent his Friends being Sufferers by their intended Kindneſs to him, as it was very induſtriouſly inſinuated, that Rice would not ſell at his Wharf: But as he is now well convinced, and flatters himſelf all his Friends are fully ſo too, that their Crops landed in large or ſmall Parcels, will ſell altogether as well at his Wharf, as at any other in Charles-Town; and that any Gentlemen, principally concerned in the Factorage Way, will now have no Objection to receive and ſell Rice or Indico landed thereat: He therefore chooſes to decline that Buſineſs, finding it more than he is able to go through. He hopes his good Friends will ſtill land their Crops at his Wharf, where they may depend he ſhall take Care HIMSELF that their Boats have all poſſible Diſpatch.

As to the Safety and Conveniency of his Docks and Stores, he is ſure there are none preferable to them in Town in thoſe Reſpects, and few (if any) Barns in the Country are cooler and more ſecure from Fire; and 'tis almoſt impoſſible for a Barrel of Rice to be loſt or ſtolen in Landing or Shipping at his Wharf. Such Gentlemen as uſe his Wharf conſtantly, may depend on never wanting Storage whenever they do not like the going Price:——No prudent Planter but muſt be convinced, that this is a Matter of the utmoſt Conſequence to him, as many, for theſe [illegible] paſt, have had their Crops (when landed in Town) diſpoſed of very much againſt their own Inclinations and Judgments, merely for Want of Storage; and this he is ſure has been the Caſe, particularly this Year ſeveral Times, notwithſtanding the Shortneſs of the Crop.

Meſſrs. GIBBES & HORT,

Who have had long Experience in the FACTORAGE BUSINESS, in all its Branches, and confine themſelves to that only, have taken the Charge of his Scales, and will tranſact their Buſineſs on his Wharf.---To theſe Gentlemen he begs Leave to recommend ſuch of his Friends who are not otherwiſe engaged.

Chriſtopher Gadſden.

N. B. Any Gentlemen in Trade may depend on not wanting STORAGE for ſuch Parcels of Rice as they purchaſe at his Wharf.

GIBBES & HORT,

ACQUAINT THEIR FRIENDS,

THAT they continue the FACTORAGE BUSINESS in all its Branches, (on the uſual Terms) and for the Conveniency of good Storage, will tranſact it on Captain GADSDEN'S Wharf, where they deſire thoſe of their Friends that it may be agreeable to, will Order ſuch Goods as they ſhall direct to their Care, being convinced that they will ſell as well there as at any other Place in Charles-Town. Conſtant Attendance will alſo be given at their other COMPTING-HOUSE on the Bay.----Their Friends will be ſupplied with proper Boats, agreeable to their Orders; and they hope to merit a Continuance of their Favors, by a ſteady Attention to their Employers Intereſt, eſpecially as they are determined to confine themſelves to the FACTORAGE BUSINESS only; and they aſſure their Friends that they are not in any wiſe intereſted in Captain GADSDEN'S Stores, ſo that whenever they ſhall think it prudent to Store for a better Market, it muſt be ſolely with a View to their Friends Intereſt.

N. B. Wanted to attend on ſaid WHARF, a Perſon well qualified and recommended.

WHEREAS the COMMISSIONERS appointed to drain the Cypreſs Swamp, have frequently given Notice for the Owners of ſaid Lands on the ſaid Swamp, to make a Return upon Oath of the Number of Acres they poſſeſs, liable to be overflowed by the Waters of the ſame, and no Regard having been paid to their long Indulgence, THEY THEREFORE GIVE THIS LAST NOTICE, That unleſs a Return is made on or before the Firſt Monday in November next, to one or other of the Subſcribers, the Law will be put in Force againſt all Defaulters; and the Commiſſioners will on that Day attend to receive the ſaid Returns at Mr. Daniel Droze's, in Dorcheſter.

As the whole of the ſaid Drain is now undertaken, and is in great Forwardneſs, it is expected that the Owners aforeſaid will be punctual in their Returns, that the Commiſſioners may be enabled to comply with their Engagements to the Undertakers.

JOHN JOOR, DAVID OLIPHANT, WILLIAM SANDERS, BENJAMIN WARING, JAMES SANDERS, RICHARD WALTER, JOHN JOOR, jun. SAMUEL HAMLIN, RICHARD SALTUS.

ELIZABETH DE LANCEY, Adminiſtratrix.

Charles-Town, October 24, 1771.

NOTICE is hereby given, That Meſſrs. TORRANS and POAUG, of Charles-Town, Merchants, have aſſigned all their Debts and Effects to the Subſcribers, in Truſt, for paying out of the Money to ariſe therefrom, ſuch of the Creditors of the ſaid TORRANS & POAUG, as ſhall, within Twelve Months from this Day, conſent and agree to receive a Dividend of their Debts, in Average and Proportion, as far as the ſaid Money will extend, and thereupon to execute general Releaſes, of their Demands againſt the ſaid TORRANS & POAUG: Their other Creditors are excluded from any Share of the ſaid Money.——THEREFORE, thoſe who are willing to accept Dividends upon the Terms above mentioned, are deſired to ſignify ſuch Conſent, and tranſmit their Accounts, duly atteſted, within the Time above limited,

The Books of Accounts, &c. are in the Poſſeſſion of Mr. William Graham, (at a Store on Colonel Beale's Wharf) who is appointed and impowered by the Aſſignees, to receive and collect the Monies due to the ſaid TORRANS & POAUG, of which all Perſons concerned, are deſired to take Notice.

The Bill Creditors of the ſaid TORRANS & POAUG, are deſired to deliver into the Aſſignees, ſuch Bills of Exchange as have been returned proteſted, in order that proper Steps may be purſued for their Recovery.

LONDON, June 9.

THE following Anecdote may be depended on as a fact: During the time the Diſſenters bill was before the Houſe of Commons, a few favourers of the bill requeſted Lord Denbigh's aſſiſtance in its going through the Upper Houſe; upon which his Lordſhip replied, with that openneſs and patriotic ſenſibility which has ever ſo much diſtinguiſhed his Lordſhip's character, "I'll tell you what, Gentlemen, our way in this here matter, is this: We are to go as the Bench of Biſhops go; for it, a ſettled rule with Adminiſtration, that as they ſerve us in temporals, we ſerve them in ſpirituals."

Lord Chatham, in ſpeaking to the above bill in the Houſe of Lords, ſhewed as much oratory and fire as, perhaps, he ever did in his life. In replying to one of the Biſhops who talked a great deal of the dogmas of foreign colleges, he ſaid, "There was a college of much greater antiquity, as well as veracity, which he was ſurprized he never heard ſo much as mentioned by any of his Lordſhip's fraternity; and that was, the college of the poor, humble, deſpiſed fiſhermen, who preſſed hard upon no man's conſcience, yet ſupported the doctrine of Chriſtianity both by their lives and converſations ſuperior to all; but, my Lords, probably I may affront your rank or learning, by applying to ſuch ſimple, antiquated authorities; for I muſt confeſs there is a wide difference between the Biſhops of thoſe times and the preſent."

We hear it is intended, after ſome particulars are ſettled, that the Duke of Glouceſter ſhall return to Italy, it being thought neceſſary by his phyſicians, that his Royal Highneſs ſhould reſide in a thinner air than this climate affords.

June 11. Power, wherever lodged, is very apt to incroach upon right: It is therefore, of all things, moſt neceſſary for the preſervation of the rights and liberties of this nation, that the Crown ſhould not have a revenue in its power, ſufficient to bribe and corrupt the repreſentatives of the people. As the national debt decreaſes, the taxes on the people ſhould diminiſh in proportion: But we have ſeen the annual ſum due to the creditors of the public leſſened, by a reduction of the intereſt, and ſome of the principal debt paid off, without the leaſt diminuation of thoſe taxes which were impoſed upon the people, and appropriated for the payment of ſuch intereſt; by which the heavy weight remains upon the ſhoulders of the ſubject, undiminiſhed, and the ſame; whilſt the revenue, and conſequently the power of the Crown, is greatly increaſed thereby. Miniſterial perſons will tell us, that all ſuch ſurpluſſes go to the ſinking fund, and will certainly be applied towards the further payment of the public debt; but conſiderate men will be apt to apprehend, that they will be applied in future, as they have been in times paſt; and that is, to the infamous and unconſtitutional purpoſe of packing a Parliament. A general election begins now to draw near; and if the people would have any chance of a free and fair choice of repreſentatives, and of preſerving their liberties any longer, they ſhould endeavour to prevent the Crown from having ſufficient money in its power to corrupt and bribe the electors at that ſeptennial period. The great ſurpluſſes of the ſinking fund give the Crown a very dangerous power, and which, we know by experience, hath been, at ſuch general elections, applied towards corrupting the electors, and ſubverting our excellent conſtitution.

June 13. We received the following extraordinary narrative from Berlin, May the 25th:---In the year 1770, a Neapolitan young man ſettled at Warſaw, and ſet up as a merchant, but finding that his induſtry was not rewarded with ſucceſs, he made love to a Poliſh young lady of fortune, and after a courtſhip of ſix months, gained the heart of this beautiful young lady, and married her; but a few months after this marriage, a Venetian young lady came there and proved her lawful marriage with him, with a fortune of 20,000 chequins. Scarcely was he accuſed by this Venetian young lady, but there came a Provencal young lady, and proved her marriage with him, and that ſhe had brought a fortune of 30,000 French livres. In the ſame week, an Auſtrian young lady from Vienna came and proved her marriage with him, and that her marriage portion was 20,000 florins; he then was by the law of that country condemned to death; but according to the cuſtom of Poland, the night before the execution, all condemned perſons are put into a fine room, and are at liberty to have a converence with all their friends. On this occaſion the Poliſh young lady came to ſee him for the laſt time, and was ſtruck with a ſtrong compaſſion on ſeeing his melancholy ſituation; and at laſt found the way, by means of a Jeſuit, to ſave him. The plan of eſcape having been agreed on, ſhe reſolved the ſame moment to fly with him; accordingly ſhe went home immediately, and took all her ſubſtance in ready caſh and jewels, and thus they both ſet off together; but this inhuman wretch of Naples was not ten Poliſh miles from Warſaw, when finding himſelf quite out of danger, and in a dark foreſt, he took this amiable young lady, bound her hand and foot with ſtrong ropes, threw her into the foreſt, and ſet off with all her ſubſtance. In this moſt unhappy, miſerable ſtate the young lady lay forty-eight hours, but luckily was diſcovered by a peaſant, who ſaved her life and brought her to Warſaw. When this ſtory was known at Court, the King compaſſionately granted her 100 ducats per annum, and the Jeſuit and jail-keeper were ſent to priſon.

The Lords of the Treaſury have purchaſed Ely-houſe and ground in Holborn. The houſe is to be pulled down, and on the ground is to be erected the Hackney Coach, Salt, and Stamp offices.

This morning a terrible fire broke out at a plane-maker's, in Caſtle-ſtreet, Oxford-market, about one o'clock, and conſumed two houſes and damaged ſeveral others before it was extinguiſhed. It is remarkable, no fire has been in the ſhop for ſeveral days paſt.

Friday night a fire broke out at a Colour-ſhop in Maid-lane, Southwark, which entirely conſumed the ſame. A woman who had been brought to bed but five days, with her infant, periſhed in the flames.

June 19. We are informed that Mr. Bailey, a gentleman in the learned world, and a Swiſs gentleman of great learning, will ſhortly ſet out on a voyage round the world, at the expence of the government.

A correſpondent has communicated to us the following letter, of which he aſſures us he has ſeen the original, from M. Guldenſtead, Member of the Academy of Sciences at Peterſburg, and principal or head of the Society of learned men, appointed by her Imperial Majeſty of all the Ruſſias to travel through all her dominions. The letter is addreſſed to the celebrated Geographer M. Buſching, and dated

"GEORGIA, December 28, 1771.

"My Dear Friend,

"I AM now travelling round about Georgia. The 15th of laſt month I arrived at the camp of the Czar Heraclius; as ſoon as he was acquainted with my arrival, the very ſame day I was called to an audience; he himſelf came to receive me out of the door of his tent, embraced me, led me into the tent, and made me ſit down upon the couch on his right hand; I was ſo moved by this uncivilized Aſiatic Prince, when I ſaw his thirſt after knowledge, his love for his ſubjects, his care and ſolicitude for increaſing their intereſt, and to enrich the produce of their land, that I really thought it were to be wiſhed, that our civilized and Chriſtian Princes would only be half as careful in minding their duties towards their ſubjects, and inform themſelves of but half as much of the conſequence of their office as I found in this infidel. Certainly, my dear friend, thought I, it is not religion which ought to make a Prince reſpectable, but rather his affection towards his country and ſubjects. This good infidel then told me with tears in his eyes, that he curſes the occaſion which gave into his hands the care of more people than he can make happy; he would rather be born a beggar, than enjoy all the pleaſure poſſible in having every minute a trial of the ſevere judge his conſcience. Poor people (ſaid he) they provide for me the moſt fine, the fineſt ſheep, the beſt wines for my table, the beſt horſes and mules, and ſo many young lads at my ſervice, and all at their expence; it is their hard labour which gives me all theſe conveniencies, and when my conſcience aſks me, wretch! what benefit have theſe poor creatures of it! art thou born to rob all theſe people; hath nature produced thee to enjoy all theſe pleaſures only to ſuck the blood of all theſe poor ſubjects? O! I muſt bluſh, I am aſhamed, my conſcience has not a ſingle word to anſwer. I am ſurpriſed (adds he) how your crowned heads in Europe, who have the care of many millions of people, can clear their conſciences; certainly if they have the leaſt humanity or ſenſation, they are the moſt unhappy creatures in the world; I have only the care of about 200,000, and yet I feel the moſt heavy load. What muſt that Monarch feel, who hath as many hundred thouſands? And if he has no ſenſe of his duty, I own I cannot conceive the ways of Providence: In ſhort, I am conſtrained to conclude, there muſt be ſuch a ſuperintendant being, that delights in evil, and in creating ſuch miſerable beings under a government of a ſenſeleſs Monarch!---He then told me, that in the courſe of one hundred years, his ſubjects and the reſt of the provinces had been obliged to ſwear obedience to the Perſians,---then the Turks,---and now at laſt, to the Ruſſians; but with the laſt mentioned Sovereign he is quite ſatisfied, as he is acquainted with the noble mind of our gracious Empreſs towards her country and ſubjects; and to demonſtrate his zeal, he fought three ſucceſsful battles againſt the Turks, to the laſt of which, my dear friend, I have been a witneſs. This his laſt battle was fought in the province of Carduce, and on the river Cur, or in the ancient language, in Iberia on the river Cyrus. After this battle, I went with the ſaid Czar Heraclius to his capital city of Teflis, where I and my ſuit are to remain during the ſhort winter ſeaſon. In November the leaves of the trees begin to fall; and in January they begin to grow green again. About that time I propoſe to go towards Armenia, to the mountains of Ararat, and to Kiſlar: So that I ſhall not be able to return home till October next year. I am now to travel through all the provinces of Cardual, Cachetire, and Georgia, and then to Emeratia, and Mingrelia, to the Czar Salom's, where at preſent is the remainder of Count Tottleben's, and Major General Sucboten's two corps conſiſting of 5000 men, which little army makes a great progreſs by the aſſiſtance of the Georgians at the Black Sea, and they expect every minute aſſiſtance of our fleet upon the Eſov-ſea, or Marotic Gulph.---I am ſorry that we in Europe have ſo imperfect an account of theſe Eaſtern Aſiatic provinces; our geography of them is nothing but a chain of blunders and defects, and the natural hiſtory of theſe provinces is totally defective. I muſt conclude and tell you, that all circumſtances of the preſent war are in ſuch ſituation, juſt as they are to be wiſhed in ſuch a happy epoch, in which Catharine the Great is the Empreſs of ſuch a numerous nation."

June 23. Yeſterday his Majeſty reviewed the 7th regiment of foot on Wimbledon Common. His Majeſty was attended by the Duke of Glouceſter, Generals Harvey, Carpenter, and many more: The regiment made a very fine appearance. They are to march for Plymouth, and embark for Penſacola.

To-morrow morning will be opened to public view at Guildhall, a monument erected to the memory of the late William Beckford, Eſq; in the attitude he replied to his Majeſty's anſwer to the humble Addreſs, Remonſtrance, and Petition of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, particularly during the laſt part thereof. A figure in an antique ſtile is placed on each ſide; the one repreſents the City of London in mourning, diſtinguiſhed by the City arms, the ſword, the mace, and the cap of maintenance; the other repreſenting trade and navigation in a drooping ſtate, marked by a mariner's compaſs, upon which ſhe reſts her right elbow, while her left hand holds an anchor, and her head is adorned with a mural crown; the decline of commerce is marked by a ſmall and empty cornucopia. Under the cornice which ſupports the figures upon a black marble table, is his reply in letters of gold, incloſed with two architectonic treſſes, joined at the bottom by an impoſt-moulding of veined marble; the principal figure is ſubſcribed

WILLIAM BECKFORD, Eſq;
Twice Lord Mayor; his ſpeech
to his Majeſty King George the Third, on the 23d of May, 1770.

June 25. The failures at Berlin, at Hamburgh, and in Holland, which happened about the month of September 1763, ſpread terror to every commercial city on the continent. The effects of ſuch bankruptcies could not but be great and extenſive; they were unknown, and therefore appeared greater; no man was ſure that he himſelf was ſafe; every one concluded that others were ruined; they were afraid that they ſhould be drawn upon; they were afraid to draw; and diſmay and diſtruſt appearing in every countenance, encreaſed thoſe mutual apprehenſions. Wealth could not procure credit, nor connection confidence; but univerſal doubt prevailed; and all expecting what they feared, and diſbelieving what they heard, impatiently waited, in conſternation and deſpair, for a certainty which they dreaded to receive. The Britiſh merchants alone behaved with a ſpirit equal to the criſis, though they were particularly unprepared for ſuch an event at the conjuncture, when all Europe was deeply, and they were more deeply than any, engaged in the ſtocks, which in conſequence of this calamity were falling; though moſt of their tranſactions therein were time bargains, by which their credit was already ſtretched, and they made themſelves anſwerable for a new ſpecies of demands, great in amount, near in proſpect, and which could not be poſtponed even for a day. Yet amidſt theſe accumulated difficulties, regardleſs of the partial ſecurity of their own particular houſes, they applied themſelves nobly to provide for the general ſafety. Though the ſituations of their correſpondents were acknowledged to be precarious, they truſted them more than ever; they turned all they could into money; they ſold at a loſs; they borrowed in order to lend, and then made vaſt and immediate remittances to the places where the diſtreſs and the danger were the greateſt. The encouragement and concurrence of a firm adminiſtration ſupported their reſolution, and ſeconded their efforts. The Bank on this preſſing occaſion, inſtead of paying in ſilver, doubting on ſecurities, or recurring to any of the little expedients of caution and delay, boldly, and without heſitation, and without reſerve, gave the moſt liberal and effectual aſſiſtance, by diſcounting bills with the readieſt diſpatch, and to an incredible amount; and the merchants being from thence ſupplied with larger ſums than they themſelves thought it poſſible for them to command, and ſending away all they could procure, by ſuch a ſeaſonable and vigorous exertion of their powers, prevented the bankruptcy of Europe.

The conduct of the great (the nobility and gentry) at the Weſt end of the town, is at this time highly cenſurable. The major part of them have quitted the town without paying their tradeſmen. Some few indeed have the conſideration and humanity to reflect, that a man in trade cannot ſhuffle week after week, be from home, ſay call again (after having called twenty times) the ſteward ſhall pay, &c. &c. and therefore by paying once a year, with which every reaſonable man is contented, are deſerving the higheſt praiſe. But what ſtigma is ſevere enough for that profligate part of the great, who diſſipate their fortunes in pleaſures, and then have not money, or have not principle, to pay thoſe who have furniſhed them with neceſſaries; who would rather ſpend their money at the gaming table, or any place of diverſion, than pay the induſtrious tradeſman who gives bread to hundreds. Nothing can be ſo melancholy as this ſhocking ſpirit of diſhoneſty, which prevails ſo generally among the people of faſhion, that upon a moderate computation it may be ſaid, two thirds of the quality, or thoſe who call themſelves quality, are infected with it. There ſeems but one way of curing this diſtemper; and that is, for the tradeſmen to refuſe ſerving ſuch noblemen and gentlemen as do not pay their bills once a year. Every one of the late failures were in conſequence of this ſcandalous and moſt enormous abuſe of CREDIT, though in different ranks of people. And ſurely the many and great miſchiefs occaſioned by them, will be a ſufficient warning to tradeſmen to conduct their affairs with more regularity, and to inſiſt upon being paid once a year. If this rule were once eſtabliſhed, failures would then be in conſequence of extravagance only.

June 27. This morning, between two and three o'clock, a fire broke out at Mr. Watſon's, coach painter, in Long-acre, which, with that of Meſſrs. Black and Smith, Jacemen, were conſumed. The back part of the houſe of Mr. Nuttall, engine-maker, was damaged. There was no water to be got for two hours and upwards, and the fire (which burnt with great rapidity) communicated itſelf to the houſes the upper part of Bow ſtreet, and conſumed the two firſt; and likewiſe burnt four more in New-court, amongſt which is Lucy Cooper's. Several others were damaged. It was firſt diſcovered by two young girls, who went and told the watchman, and he alarmed the family and the neighbourhood. Mr. Nuttall, engine-maker, and his ſervants, were particularly ſerviceable, otherwiſe much more miſchief would have been done. No lives were loſt, though it was with the utmoſt difficulty an elderly lady, near fourſcore, mother of Mr. Watſon, was ſaved. Two children were alſo with great difficulty ſaved from periſhing, being carried out at the garret window along the leads on the tops of the houſes. It muſt be ſaid, that the Bridewell engine, and the boys who worked it, behaved particularly well. A file of ſoldiers was ſent for from the Savoy. A man was detected carrying away a bed in the midſt of the confuſion, and taken into cuſtody by one of the ſoldiers. Mr. Sheriff Wilkes was there the whole time, and gave orders, as well as worked himſelf, in order to extinguiſh it.

Extract of a letter from Marienwerder, June 12.

"Our new Sovereign the King of Pruſſia, whoſe general wiſhes and deſires are only for the happineſs of his ſubjects, has found it highly intereſting, as well for his new ſubjects in New-Pruſſia, as for his ſubjects in Sileſia, to join the river Oder with the Weichſel; for the execution of which truly royal undertaking great preparations are already made; the Sieur Brenkenhof, his Majeſty's chief engineer, arrived here yeſterday for that purpoſe; the ſum of 600,000 dollars, or 100,000l. is ordered from the Royal Treaſury to defray the expences. The King ordered alſo, that none but inhabitants of this province ſhall be employed in this work, ſo that all the money will be expended in New-Pruſſia."

June 30. A frigate of thirty-two guns is ordered to be got ready at Chatham, for the purpoſe of carrying ſome advices to Admiral Harland in the Eaſt-Indies.

Extract of a Letter from Amſterdam, June 23.

"Your two laſt favours, of the 16th and 19th inſtant, like many more advices, bring us terrible work among the principal claſs of merchants. No wonder, indeed, they ſhould avail themſelves of whatever valuable effects they can get at, in order to convert them into money. Such are the precarious conſequences on all occaſions, of diſtreſs and ſtagnation of paper credit. Yet, alarming as your accounts appear, the principal houſes here are determined to weather the ſtorm, eſpecially now we find the great pillars on our Exchange ſtand their ground very coolly and firmly. This material circumſtance, when known on your ſide the water, will, no doubt, operate towards mending the ſtocks, ſeeing the fall in your funds, ſeems to have been occaſioned by ſome groundleſs reports reſpecting a certain Houſe here. I have ſent you the prices of your ſtocks, as they were done this day on our Exchange."

The Moors have commenced hoſtilities againſt the Dutch, by taking a merchant ſhip from Amſterdam within ſight of Gibraltar. Other accounts ſay they have taken above forty ſhips belonging to the Dutch, and carried the crews into ſlavery; and that a formidable ſquadron from Fluſhing is juſt upon the point of ſailing in order to make reprizals. The diſpute which ſubſiſted between the Emperor and England has been amicably adjuſted by the prudent conduct of the Governor of Gibraltar; and the officer employed in the negociation has brought with him ſome natives from Tetuan, whoſe ranſom he paid.

The Earl of Guildford, ſaid a Great Perſonage the other day, is the happieſt man in the kingdom; he ſees a ſon raiſed to the firſt dignities of the ſtate, by the genuine force of ſterling merit; and, perhaps, was the whole kingdom to be picked, there is not a man, all things conſidered, who would be ſo generally agreeable at the head of the Treaſury.

WAR-OFFICE, June 25. His Majeſty has been pleaſed to appoint Lieutenant Colonel James Montreſor, of the Engineers, and Lieutenant Colonel Richard Preſcott, of the 7th regiment of foot, to be Colonels in the army.

Likewiſe Majors William Hiſlop, of the artillery; William Wade, of the late 74th regiment of foot; John Nairne, of the late 109th regiment of foot; Robert Preſton, of the late 93d regiment of foot; Charles Croſbie, of the late 86th regiment of foot, to be Lieutenant Colonels in the army.

June 30. The King has been pleaſed to appoint Colonel William Faucitt, of the third regiment of foot guards, to be Deputy Adjutant General of his Majeſty's forces in South-Britain.

From the LONDON GAZETTE of June 27.

The King of Sweden's Speech to the States on the 1ſt of June, 1772.

YOU are this day aſſembled, in order to confirm, in the manner of your anceſtors, the band of union which ties you to me, me to you, and you to the whole commonwealth: We muſt therefore remember, with the moſt ſenſible gratitude, the benevolence of the Almighty, who has ordered things ſo, that this very ancient kingdom of the Swedes and Goths is ſtill exiſting, after ſo many foreign, as well as national ſhocks; and that I, on the throne of my anceſtors, can yet addreſs free and independent States.

Aſſured of your hearts, moſt ſincerely purpoſing to merit them, and to fix my throne upon your love and felicity, the public engagement which you are going to enter into, would, in my opinion, be needleſs, if antient cuſtom, and the law of Sweden, did not require it of you; unhappy the King who wants the tye of oaths to ſecure himſelf on the throne; and who, not aſſured of the hearts of his ſubjects, is conſtrained to reign only by the force of laws, when he cannot by the love of his ſubjects!

I need not put you in mind of the weightineſs of the engagement you are going to take; the States of Sweden know beſt the extent of their duty to themſelves and the commonwealth; may concord and harmony ever unite your hearts; may foreign views, and private gain, ever be ſacrificed to public intereſts; may this alone be a perpetual band of union amongſt you; and may the ambition of any part of you never raiſe any ſuch diſturbances, as may endanger the freedom, and independency, of the whole commonwealth!

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Nobles,

Preſerve always the honour and intrepidity of your anceſtors; be an example to your fellow-citizens; and, as you are the firſt order of the kingdom, be alſo the firſt in virtue, and love of your country.

Good Men of the Reverend Order of Clergy,

May mutual friendſhip, and peace, obedience to the laws, reverence to God, and the King, bear witneſs to me, and the country, of your zeal in the execution of the ſacred office with which you are entruſted.

Good Men of the Reverend Order of Burghers,

Strive always with your fellow-ſubjects, who ſhall contribute the moſt to the public good: May the fruits of the extenſive ſhare, which belongs to you, be general credit and confidence, uſeful inſtitutions, frugal living, and moderate gain; which leads to ſure and certain wealth.

Good Men of the worthy Order of Peaſants,

May piety, diligence, temperance, and old Swediſh faith, and modeſty, be the ſtrongeſt confirmation of the honour always due to that Order, which gives ſubſiſtance to all the others; an honour, which the Swediſh Peaſants have in all times attained.

This is all that I aſk of you: When you obſerve this, you perform, in the beſt manner, that duty to me, and your country, which, according to the Swediſh laws, I now call upon you to confirm by oath.

CHARLES CROUCH,

At his Printing-Office in Elliott-street, (Price NINE SHILLINGS Pennsylvania Currency, the London Edition sells for FOURTEEN SHILLINGS)

A COMPLETE GERMAN GRAMMAR, in two Parts. The first Part containing the Theory of the Language, through all the Parts of Speech; the second Part is the Practice, in as ample a Manner as can be desired. The third Edition, greatly altered and improved,

By JOHN JAMES BACHMAIR, M. A

To which is added, an APPENDIX, containing,

I. An Index of German Words, similar in Sound, but of different Orthography and Signification.

II. Names of the most common Occupations and Trades, also the Names of the Materials and Implements, &c. thereto belonging.

III. Explication of a German Proverb.

N. B. The APPENDIX is not in the London Edition.

 In the Preface to the first Edition of this Grammar the Author says, that "those who have a Mind to learn fundamentally the German Language, will find such plain and easy Instructions, that, even without a Master, they may at least attain to read and understand it."

ALEXANDER ALEXANDER,

PROPOSES to teach the Art of SURVEYING in the Evenings, the ensuing FALL and WINTER, provided he can get a sufficient Number of young Gentlemen engaged, to make it worth his While: And having furnished himself with a CIRCUMFERENTOR and CHAIN, he intends to accompany his Pupils to the Fields and Woods near Town, at convenient Times, in order to instruct them in the Practice: He intends to begin on MONDAY the 28th of SEPTEMBER Instant, at Six o'Clock in the Evening.

As Lands in this Province daily increase in Value, the Utility of this Art must increase in Proportion.----The Advantages of an accurate Acquaintance with it, must be very apparent to those Gentlemen in particular, who are possessed of landed Property in the Country, as it might, at any Time, give them a satisfactory Knowledge of the exact Dimensions of their own Possessions; might be a Source of rational Amusement in their leisure Hours; and might enable them to be serviceable to their Friends and Neighbours.

 He has good Accommodations for BOARDERS, who may be instructed in the above Branch, and in any other he professes to teach, without any additional Expence.

THE Negroes advertised by the Subscribers, to be sold on Friday the 25th of September Instant, being disposed of altogether, they give this Notice, that no Person may be disappointed.

 Shop and Waſte PAPER to be ſold at C. CROUCH's Printing-Office in Elliott-ſtreet.

PERUSING Meſſrs. POWELL & Co's. Gazette of the Third Inſtant, I ſaw a Letter, ſigned A Sufferer by the Meaſles; in which I am called on to exculpate myſelf and my Employer (Captain Scheermerhorn) if innocent: I therefore gladly embrace this Opportunity of doing it, in as public a Manner as I am therein called upon.

I was ſent on ſhore, by Captain Scheermerhorn, to Port Johnſon, where I candidly anſwered every Queſtion put to me, viz.

QUESTION I. Was the Small Pox, Yellow Fever, or any other contagious Diſorder at New-York, when you left that Place?

ANSWER.—No.

QUESTION II. Is there any on Board at preſent?

ANSWER.—No.

The above Two were ALL the Queſtions that were put to me, though a falſe Report has been induſtriouſly propagated, that I have perjured myſelf, by ſwearing to a Third, to wit:

Was any of the above Diſorders on Board during the Paſſage?

I now ſolemnly declare, that no ſuch Queſtion was put to me—for if it had, I would ſooner have loſt my Life, than have anſwered in the Negative, but would have candidly told the Truth.

I can anſwer for Captain Scheermerhorn, that, had he thought there would have been any Infection left when he arrived here, he would gladly have performed Quarantine, rather than have been the Cauſe of bringing ſo fatal a Diſorder into this Province.

The Infection was brought on Board by one of Mr. Tennant's Children.—I am extremely ſorry for the Gentleman, who ſigned himſelf A Sufferer by the Meaſles, and for every other Perſon who has ſuffered by that Diſorder; but am confident, that it was not owing to any Fault or wilful Neglect in Captain Scheermerhorn or myſelf, as it was the joint Opinion of all the Paſſengers, as well as the Captain and myſelf, that no Infection remained on Board, for the Child had been well near Ten Days before our Arrival here.

I hope that neither Captain Scheermerhorn or myſelf, have deſerved any Reflections to be caſt on us.

GEORGE FOWLER.

Signed and ſworn before me, this 5th Day of Sept. 1772.
JOHN REMINGTON, J. P.

 Shop and Waſte PAPER to be ſold at C. CROUCH's Printing-Office in Elliott-ſtreet.

PERUSING Meſſrs. POWELL & Co's. Gazette of the Third Inſtant, I ſaw a Letter, ſigned A Sufferer by the Meaſles; in which I am called on to exculpate myſelf and my Employer (Captain Schermerhorn) if innocent: I therefore gladly embrace this Opportunity of doing it, in as public a Manner as I am therein called upon.

I was ſent on Shore, by Captain Schermerhorn, to Fort Johnſon, where I candidly anſwered every Queſtion put to me, viz.

QUESTION I. Was the Small Pox, Yellow Fever, or any other contagious Diſorder at New-York, when you left that Place?

ANSWER.—No.

QUESTION II. Is there any on Board at preſent?

ANSWER.—No.

The above Two were ALL the Queſtions that were put to me, though a falſe Report has been induſtriouſly propagated, that I have perjured myſelf, by ſwearing to a Third, to wit:

Was any of the above Diſorders on Board during the Paſſage?

I now ſolemnly declare, that no ſuch Queſtion was put to me—for if it had, I would ſooner have loſt my Life, than have anſwered in the Negative, but would have candidly told the Truth.

I can anſwer for Captain Schermerhorn, that, had he thought there would have been any Infection left when he arrived here, he would gladly have performed Quarantine, rather than have been the Cauſe of bringing ſo fatal a Diſorder into this Province.

The Infection was brought on Board by one of Mr. Tenant's Children.—I am extremely ſorry for the Gentleman, who ſigned himſelf A Sufferer by the Meaſles, and for every other Perſon who has ſuffered by that Diſorder; but am confident, that it was not owing to any Fault or wilful Neglect in Captain Schermerhorn or myſelf, as it was the joint Opinion of all the Paſſengers, as well as the Captain and myſelf, that no Infection remained on Board, for the Child had been well near Ten Days before our Arrival here.

I hope that neither Captain Schermerhorn or myſelf, have deſerved any Reflections to be caſt on us.

GEORGE FOWLER.

Signed and ſworn before me, this 5th Day of Sept. 1772.
JOHN REMINGTON, J. P.

DANCING and FENCING.

PIKE's ACADEMY, for FENCING and DANCING, was opened for the enſuing Seaſon, on Thurſday the 17th Inſtant, at his NEW SUIT of ROOMS, in Church-ſtreet.

CHARLES CROUCH,

Has received in the laſt Veſſels from LONDON,

A CONSIGNMENT

Of the ſeveral ARTICLES undermentioned, which may be had at his Printing-Office in Elliott-Street, on the moſt reaſonable Terms, viz.

A FRESH PARCEL of Dr. KEYSER's
GENUINE PILLS,
With FULL DIRECTIONS for their Uſe in all CASES.
Where may be ſeen, A NARRATIVE of the Effects of Dr. KEYSER's MEDICINE, with an Account of its ANALYSIS, by the Members of the Royal Academy of Science.

Dr. NELSON's ANTISCORBUTIC DROPS, which have been found by many Years Experience, to ſurpaſs all other Remedies hitherto diſcovered in the Cure of the Scurvy, Rheumatiſm, Yaws, Venereal Diſeaſe, Gleets and Seminal Weakneſſes, Ulcers of all Kinds, &c.

ESSENCE of OIL of MINT. This is an excellent Remedy in Want of Appetite, reachings to vomit, and vomiting itſelf. It ſtrengthens the almoſt Paralytic Weakneſſes of the Stomach, and may be uſed either internally or externally; it is taken on a Lump of Sugar, from ten to twelve Drops.

Dr. RYAN's Incomparable WORM-DESTROYING SUGAR PLUMBS.

Dr. HILL's genuine TINCTURE of VALERIAN. This pleaſant Cordial and enlivening Medicine, is good againſt all Nervous Diſorders, Fits, Head-Achs, Weakneſs, Heavineſs, and Lowneſs of Spirits, Dimneſs of the Sight, Vapours and Melancholy, all Kinds of Convulſions, and Hyſteric Complaints, Epilepſies, as alſo againſt the Sickneſs of the Stomach, and Flatulencies, Obſtructions, and the Convulſive Aſthma, &c. The proper Uſe in all the above Caſes, may be ſeen in the Directions given with each Bottle.

Dr. BOERHAAVE's GRAND BALSAM of HEALTH. An admirable Remedy for the Dry Belly-Ach, Cholic, Griping in the Bowels, Pain in the Stomach; it cleanſes the Stomach, and procures an Appetite.

ESSENCE of BALM of GILEAD, a grand Reſtorative of decayed Nature, good in all Seminal Weakneſſes, Hypochondriacal and Nervous Diſorders, with the Variety of Symptoms which indicate a weak and infirm Conſtitution.

Its cordial and balmy Quality, renders it alſo an agreeable palatable Liquor, and prodigiouſly refreſhing in the ſultry Heat of Summer; preventing thoſe Sinkings which over-power the Spirits in hot Weather. The proper Uſe of this noble Medicine may be ſeen in the Directions.

STOMACHIC LOZENGES. They ſtrengthen and fortify by their balſamic and nutritive Virtues, the tender Veſſels of the Stomach, help Digeſtion, and promote Chylification; they melt in the Mouth like Sugar, are of a moſt agreeable taſte, and fail not to correct the Breath, and the impure Exhalations of the Stomach.

Where alſo may be had,

JOYCE's GREAT AMERICAN BALSAM, extracted from the beſt Medicinal Herbs, &c. for the Cure of the following Diſorders, incident to human Nature; proved from Experience in New-York, Long-Iſland, and elſewhere, to equal, and rather exceed any Balſam, Eſſence, or Elixir, &c. exported from Europe here, for the ſeveral Diſorders hereafter mentioned.

For common green or freſh Wounds, it heals at once or twice dreſſing, by cloſing the Lips of the Wound, and laying on the Wound a Pledgit of Lint dipt in the Balſam. In Nervous Wounds, where the Blood Veſſels are divided, &c. it ſtops the Blood immediately, and heals by a few Applications. For the Cure of the moſt inveterate Ulcers, only waſh them and keep them clean, uſing firſt if there be any proud Fleſh, a common Cauſtick, to take the Exceſſence away, then apply the Balſam on Lint. If the Ulcers ſhould happen to be fiſtulous, inject by a Syringe, and after thoſe the Orifice with a Pledgit dipt in the Balſam, and ſo repeat. There are Witneſſes undeniable of the Balſam alone curing a Fiſtula in Ano, now preſent in New-York: The Author of this Balſam, (under God) will engage to cure a Fiſtula in Ano, even if the Rectum is perforated, without Inciſion, except as much by a Lancet to make Way for Injection, and no more. For the Cure of Colds, attended with violent Coughing, Pains in the Breaſt, Inflammation in the Throat and Glands, Difficulty of Breathing, being obſtructed by tough viſcid Phlegm; by taking a Tea Spoonful of the Balſam, mixed with Sugar or Honey, it quickly cures, taken twice a Day, Morning faſting, and at Night going to Bed. It is exceeding good in all Manner of Swellings; for violent Falls or inward Bruiſes, nothing is better, for it ſcatters coagulated Blood, and ſtops Blood that might be occaſioned by the inward Parts being hurt, or a Rexis of Veſſels inwardly. In the Cure of Pleuriſy, after Bleeding (where it is required) give a Tea Spoonful three Times a Day, in Sugar, and between Times now and then 20 or 30 Drops of ſpirituous Nitri dulcis, that is the ſweet Spirits of Nitre.---It cures Conſumptions in them that are not too far gone, except they paſs the Age of Fifty, by taking of it inwardly three Times a Day, a full Tea Spoonful mixt with Sugar or Honey, each Doſe. It ſtrengthens the Nerves, and is good in all Nervous Diſorders, by taking of it inwardly, and anointing the Parts outwardly, keeping warm.

THE AGUE TINCTURE.

The Patient muſt take a Table Spoonful of the ELIXIR, two Hours before the Approach of the Fit, and be immediatly put to Bed, and excited to ſweat, by being very warmly covered. Every Half Hour repeat the Doſe in the ſame Quantity, until he or ſhe has taken Four; you are to obſerve the giving it with a little Sugar, to make it palatable, and let the laſt Doſe be given juſt as the Fit comes on; this will infallibly perform the Cure.
